of the First National bank of Den-Indorsement. ver and of the Capitol National bank of Denver will announce, tomorrow morning, the consolidation of the latter with the formrer institution. the convolidation the First National will have increased its rapital stock to $1,250,000, and its surplus to the isame amount, which will make it one of the largest banking institutions in the west. The combined resources will total $25,000,000.

The last details of the consolidation were completed today by A. V. Hunter and M. D. Thatcher, presidents of the First National and the Capitol National, respectively. The reason given for the sale is the fact that Mr Thatcher has too many inferests to give the Caritol National the personal attention it requires. He owns a controlling interest in the First National and the Pueblo Savings banks, both of Pueblo, and a string of about 25 other institutions in the Arkansas valley,

S. Holden, editor of the Fort Gibson Post, as the highest bidder, the purchase price be-

With the passing of all that remains' of the old Advocate, there disappears much as any single thing toward the field plated, contrary to the merchanpolifting of the Cherokees. It has boanted of some of the brightest Indian scholars known to history as its editors. It has preserved peace, and it might have declared war.

No newspaper ever printed with auccess, perhaps, had a policy that was built upon as high a plane as was the policy of the Advocate. Back in the days before the white man made his sacred yow to the red men which now lies broken and shattered beyond all redemption and ail hope, there was begun in Neucuchotah, Ga., the publication of the Cherokee Phoenix, it was printed in the Cherokea alphabet, product of the master mind of quoyah. Its primary purpose was to disseminate the teachings of the Bible among the Charokees and did not come from Sheffield. The Elias Boudinot was its first editor. And then under the administration clearly proved. of Andrew Jackson, the Cherokees were driven from their lands up into the Indian Territory, a land that was to be theirs 'as long as grees grows and waters flow." The immigration into the indian country began in 1832 said to be produced in the same man-

With them the red men brought the memory of the old Cherokee Phoenix. The paper was revived in the new land in about 1352 and fired sgain at the outbreak of the Civil war. It was not again reestablished until several years after the struggle between the states, when the national council of the Cherokee Nation passed a biti making it a tured by hammering or fusing silver tribal publication and paying its expenses from the tribal funds. The national council called it the Cherokee Advocate.

It was printed half in English and half in Cherykee, and continued its policy as it had in the past. Any person ahe could read the Cherekee language was entitled to it free. William P. Ross, a grdauate at Princeton university and an Indian achoiar, was the first egitor of the raper under the new name of the Advocate. Later William P. Ross became chief of the Cherokee Nation. all its jurisdiction over its lands and case tried at Belfast, should be of interest to American purchasers of antiques, particularly "oki Sheffeld" plate" or Sheffield plate." The prosecutor, acting with the support and cooperation of the Cutlers company and the Sheffield Master Sliveramiths association, brought a series of six summonses against a dealer in Belfast, complaining that "he did apply to certain erticles a false trade description. an institution that perhaps did as namely Old Sheffield plate or Shef- c

The case establishes the point that the term "old Sheffield plate" or "Sheffield plate" implies vessels made of copper and coated with silver by means of fusion. This process was the precursor of electroplating, and died about 75 years ago. Very little ware is produced in Sheffield by this method today. Fine specimens of genuine Sheffield plate bring fancy prices, and at the trial it was stated that large quantities of both the real and counterfelt are bought by Americans. The articles in question were shown to be electropiate on copper by a process patented about the year 1853. None of the articles were Sheffleid plate. Shoffield plated, or old Shoffield plate.

GUMAIR LAND AT FLORENCE FOR SALE

IRRIGATED ORCHARD AND GARDEN TRACTS

Perfect Irrigation

Now Known as Rainbow Park Addition to Florence (On Santa Fe Trail and Rainbow Route)

Perfect Land

THE IRRIGATION

These Tracts have the Oldest Water Right in Florence and Canon City. The Union Ditch. Decree No. 10 on the Arkansas River and Tributaries Dated 1861. It is the Second Water Right on the Arkansas Proper.

The first has a decree to but 1 and 52 thousandths of a foot, and it is twenty miles below the Union Dutch. The streams that the Union Dutch, would be the last one on the Arkatsas Blood to acre irrigated from the Arkaneas River in Colorado or Kansas, outside the Union third, could be dry, while would still be running on this and. The Arkaneas River would have the large transfer the Vision third in the large transfer the Arkaneas River would have the large transfer to the large transfer transfer to the large transfer transfer to the large transfer transfer transfer to the large transfer tran prive land under the Union Ditch of water. THE RECORDS OF THE WATER COMMISSIONER FOR THES DISTRICT SHOW THAT THE FULL APPROPRIATION OF THIS DISCHARDS NEVER BEEN DENIED. In over fifty years never a shortage of water. Absolutely certain irrigation.

THE LAND

Much of this land is already under cultivation. It has been owned and held in one body for over-thirty years. The owner has received scores of offers for tracts of from five to forty acres, but has refused to cut it up, and until recently refused to sell as a whole. We have just procured this land, have surveyed and staked it off in tracts of from one to ten acres and this is the first notice given to the public that it is for sale.

This land adjoins the city of Florence, commencing at the Santa Fe depot. Every acre is within one mile of a Santa Fe station and within two miles of the D. & R. G. station and the city hall in Florence. It is on the main Pueblo and Canon City road, the Colorado Springs and Canon City road, and only six miles from the Canon City orchard district. The Santa Fe Trail and Rainbow Route passes directly through the heart of this tract. Hence the name Rainbow Addition to

YOU DON'T HAVE TO WAIT

Immediate possession of both land and water given upon first payment. Act quickly, and you can plant to crop or rent for this

If you are not prepared to plant a crop on this land yourself this year, you can rent it, and the rent for 1912 should meet your 1913 payment, and so on.

Stop paying rent. If a renter, a first payment of $200 or even less, which is less than the cash rental value of this land, will give you possession of a suburban tract of three acres of as good land and water right as anyone could have. It will start you working for yourself.

The New Fable of the Two Unfettered Birds and How Far They Flew

By GEORGE ADE.

NCE there was a Girl with a gleaming New Hampshire Forehead who used to exchange helpful Books with a studious young Man who had an Intellect of high Voltage.

It will not be necessary to name these Books, as you never heard of them.

Laura and Edgar were Comrades in a a way. They met under the Student Lamp and talked about Schopenhauer and Walter Pater, but the Affair never got beyond that ∯oint. It was not even warm enough to be called Platonic. It carried about as much Romantic Sug-destion as a cold Hot Water Bottle. There grow up between them merely a Fellowthip of the Super-Mind, or what a Wimp wearing Having cleared away the Underbrush, we will now proceed with the Narrative.

Like every other Member of the Tribe of Mansard Mentalities, they regarded with much Contempt the School of Popular Fiction.

! Do you think they would stand for any of that old-style Guff about Sir Ralph getting the Hammerwock on Dorothy just outside the Loggia? Not on

They regarded the Article commonly called Love as a lingering Symptom of some primeval Longing for Parlor Entertainment.

It was agreed that each Soul was free and independent and had a right to run on its own private

Laura said she was going to live her Life in her own Way and that no Wallopus in striped Trousers could leave her marooned in a Flat, working under Scaled Orders.

Edgar did not choose to carry Overweight while working out his Career and grew faint at the very Thought of shouldering a lot of Domestic Responsi-

Marriage was an institution devised for Strap-Hangers who wanted to get their Names into the Paper. It was a childish Refuge for those who lacked Courage to forsake the beaten Paths and strike out for the High Spots.

It will be seen that they were somewhat Advanced. As far back as 1890 they were living in the 21st Century.

Laura went in for Club Work and Cold Baths and Card-Indexing.

She felt sorry for the Married Women. They were always fussed up over getting a Laundress or telling about new cases of Scarlet Rash or else choning the Office to make sure that the Bread-

Winner was at the Desk and behaving himself. When she let down her Hair at Night she did not have to do any checking up or put the bottle of Squills on the Radiator. She was Free and Happy. A little lonesome on Rainy Days, but the freest toing you ever saw and she had her Books.

Edgar looked about him and saw the Slaves of Matrimony watching the Clock and getting ready to duck at 11 p. m. and be rejoiced inwardly.

He could land in at his little Independence Hall at 4 g. m. and turn on all the Lights and drape in-Wardrobe ever the Rugs and light Cigarettes and there was not a Voice to break the colostial Silence. He figured that Children must be an awful

Worly. He brooded over the Kid Proposition so much that soon after he was 30 years of Age he used to go around and borrow his Nephews and Nieces and take them to the Circus and buy expensive Presents for them and upset the Household Rules. Decasionally he would take a new Book dealing with the Higher Things of Life up to his old friend Laura and he would find her feeding the Birds, with the Cat asleep in the Corner and an imported Dog with many Curls preempting the principal Chair.

They would discuss Prison Reform and Kipling and other Subjects in ne way related to the awakening of the Maternal Instinct.

When he owned up to 40 and she had stopped talking about it, the Reading Habit was no longer a Novelty with him, so merely to kill Time, he was acting on the Visiting Board of an Orphan Asylum and was a Director of the Fresh Air Fund and was putting the Office Boy through a Business College.

About the same time Laura was made the victim of a Conspiracy.

A designing Day Laborer and his Wife deoberately up and died, beaving a Chick of a Daughter, all helpless and alone.

Lanca simply had to go over and grab the Young One and play Mother to her, because it all happened hardly a Mile from her own Door Step. She had been dodging these commonplace and old fashioned Responsibilities all her Life and now ernel Circumstances compelled her to spend Hours in servile Attentions to a stray Specimen. Of course, she had the Expert Advice of her old friend Edgar, who made out the Adoption Papers and sent a lot of Merchandise up to the House, out of the promptings of a broad and general sentiment of Pity for the Unfortunate. Even when they stood up to be married they

READY FOR PAVING

FOR several weeks scores of men and teams have been at work hauling gravel and rock and other paving material and dumping it in huge piles on the street. The piles have grown to be miniature mountains, and now it is announced that construction work will actually be started next week, weather permitting. Indeed, if it were not for the weather the business streets of Colorado Springs would have been covered with a sheet of asphalt before now. But with the beginning of April danger of serious frosts is past, and the contractors can go ahead with their work undeterred by the fear of having to do any of it over again.

The paying project has been agitated, discussed, fought for and fought against so long that its early consummation is a thing difficult of realization. Just the same the tact stands. The business streets of Colorado Springs are to be paved, and the job will be finished before summer. When the advance guard of tourists come they will find many notable improvements. Not only will the streets be paved, but the sidewalks on Tejon Street and Pikes Peak Avenue will be widened four feet. The center parking on Cascade Avenue will be extended from Platte to a point midway between Kiowa Street and Pikes Peak Avenue. Platte 'Avenue will be side-parked and its roadway oiled from Cascade to Nevada Avenue. On Tejon Street the paving will extend from Boulder to Vermijo, on Pikes Peak Avenue from Cascade to the Santa Fe depot, on Huerfano Street from the viaduct to Nevada, while Briou, Krowa and Cucharas Streets will be paved from Cascade to Nevada.

PRACTICAL VALUE OF

Not the least important part of this program of improvements is the installa-BEAUTY. tion of ornamental iron poles with incandescent lamps arranged in clusters, and with extension tops to support the trolley wires. Already the property owners on Pikes Peak Avenue between Cascade and Tejon have agreed to make this improvement and the poles are now being cast at the local toundries. But it is highly desirable that the system be installed not merely in one or two blocks, or on one street, but throughout the entire business district. The design adopted is that of the poles recently placed in front of the Burns Theater, which are ornamental to a marked degree. The general adoption of this system would make possible the removal of all of the unsightly wooden poles in the business district, the effect of which would be to add much to the attractiveness of the streets. This program of street improvements of the business district is the most ambitious project that has yet been attempted in Colorado Springs, and its assured consummation should be a matter of general satisfaction. We have too long been content. to lag behind the procession. But the peopie are becoming more and more to realize that the welfare of Colorado Springs as a residential city and a health and pleasure resort is dependent on the degree to which it is made beautiful and attractive both to its own citizens and its visitors. Colorado Springs ought to "wear its Sunday clothes" every day in the year; that is, it never should permit itself to present an unkempt appearance. First impressions are lasting, and this city should be prepared at all times to impress the visitor as the cleanest, most beautiful and most upto-date city in the West. The completion of the street improvements which will be started next week will contribute largely to

THE SPRING FLOODS BEGIN

IN reading of the spring floods, which have already begun in the Mississippi Valley, one cannot fail to be impressed with the tremendous waste involved. Every year's few lives are sacrificed and property losses easure running high into the millions, merely because one section of the country whas more water than its streams can dischange. Meanwhile other parts of the country are suffering for want of water, and even the parts that are inundated by the spring floods usually suffer three or four months later from severe drouths.

A glance at the map explains the case Perhaps two-thirds of the area of the United States is drained by the Mississippi River and its tributaries. From the Rocky Mountains to the Alleghen's nearly all of the water that falls finds its way eventually into the Mississippl, except what is lost by evaporation. The spring thaws release a tremendous flood, which is agumented a little later by the melting snows in the mountains, and then the newspapers begin to tell of rising water in the Ohio, the Missouri, and the Mississippi Bridges are swept away, lowland towns and farms inundated, crops destroyed, people made homeless, and costly levees destroyed. It is no uncommon thing for damage amounting to millions of dollars to be done in a-day by the overflow of these three big rivers.

All of this usually happens within two weeks. Throughout the other fifty weeks of the year the farmers of the vast semiand West are praying for water. Two or three years ago there was a flood in the Arkansas River which submerged parts of Pueblo and other towns and inflicted untold damage. The farmers of the Arkansas Valley helplessly watched the torrents sweep past and were unable to avert the calamit... The water that was not only wasted in the space of a few days but inflicted actual damage, would, if it could have been stored in reservoirs and used for irrigation during the next summer, have added millions to the wealth of the valley.

Some day a way will be found to convert this loss into profit. The vast territory lying between the one hundredth meridian and the Rocky Mountains needs water more than it needs anything else, and if it can. find a way to conserve the water which actually flows through it the problem will

THE FAILURE OF TAFT

To the Lditor of The Gazette Some days ago the writer was enabled to present brough your columns a few reasons why President Taft should not be reelected. If kindly allowed a little more space he will add a few more to those already enumerated

The Republican national committee, seeing the ic essity of being liberal in apologies, has sent out to the reactionary papers of the country a list of that Taft's administration has done in three years With nine out of ten of the measures enumerated. Taft has had no more to do than the most obscure person in the land. A number he has actively promoted, and many of the latter are wholly antagonistic to the interests of the masses of the people. The national committee, with commendable shrewdness, uses only five words in alluding to the organization of the court of commerce, a measure which taken in connection with the appointments of the judges by the president and the judgments of that body since ought to sink the administration of Taft beyond any danger of resurrection.

A nonpartisen terifi board is put forward with great blare of trumpets. It now seems certain that the appointment of that body was made to prevent any reduction of the outrageous tariff rates that are adding millions to the already plethoric pockets of our manufacturers and reducing labor to pauperism. The partial report of that body on the wool achedule was the most inane and puerile paper ever submitted. When the personnel of that body was attacked the president was compelled to admit that none of its members knew anything about the subject that they were appointed to report upon. The board fixed no rates and seemed satisfied to submit figures that could be used as a basis for arguments on either side. Taft, of course, gave his ward a great send-off, taking his sulogism of Balinger as a model. Congress will not base any tariff bill on the report and as Taft will veto any bill that, in his opinion, does not comport with that report, there will be no tariff legislation at this seasion This is well

Taft will be renominated at Chicago by as corupt a gang as ever assembled and will be defeated with a unanimity not witnessed in recent years. Every voter, without regard to party, who has courige to regist being awept off the face of the earth by merciless monopolies will vote against him

Much has been said by reactionary organs of the avorable balance of trade as shown in commercial eports. When our people come to understand how his is brought about, it will cease to be used as an argument in favor of a tariff. Our manufacturers harge the American people a price limited only by he cost of foreign goods laid down here, after paying the enormous duties imposed by monopoly? A ast surplus is left over to be sold abroad to foreigners at a very small margin of profit. The manufacturers are able to do this owing to the enormous prices obtained at home, but what must be thought of the justice or patriotism of such an arrangement A New England wool manufacturer told that committee on wats and means this winter that to obtain the largest profit from their operations their mills must be rup to their fullest capacity, which ed to a heavier production than the home market rould take, hence the necessity of finding a foreign market even at a low price. Citizens of the l'aited States, therefore, pay monopoly prices in order that foreigners can buy at competitive prices. If goods can be sold abroad at a profit why impose any duty whatever. Give home consumers the same chance as their foreign neighbors.

In his speech at Winone, Taft said that, excepting the wool schedule, the Payne-Aldrica bill was the heat ever adopted. He had evidently been seem by the cotton manufacturers of New England. Let us see how that bill "reduced" the rates on such cotton goods as are worn by every poor person in the country. A certain quality of cotton cloth, bleached and unbleached, were by everybody, paid & duty of 25 per cent under the Dingley bill. Under the Aldrich bill they pay 17.88 and 36.15 per cent, an increase of $1.52 and 64.60 per cent, respectively. On all kinds of cotton goods, including colored, the average increase of duty under the Aldrich bill is

But a new, great light has fallen suddenly on our president. He is frightened nigh unto death. In a ment just submitted to congress he says that the duties on some kinds of cotton goods are several times greater than the difference between the ture here and abroad. It is the first symptom that Taft is suffering from a rush of rains to the bend. Every thoughtful man in the land has known for a year what Taft has discovered within a week. He bear congress to come to his id. It is not likely that he will be assisted out of the pit into which he has fallen by the progressive

Many of the Most Stylish Suits and Hats in Faster Morning's Fashion Parade Will Be From HIBBARD'S

WE ARE emphasizing more than ever this year "Practical Garments" Suits, dresses, etc., such as the majority of Colorado Springs women want and wear

YET in our choosing we have not sacrificed style or beauty in the slightest. Much attention has been given to "value" and we can truthfully say that in our store there isn't a garment that cannot show a plain reason for every dollar of its price. If you were to investigate our millinery costs you would wonder how we can offer so much for so little!

If you are looking for a garment combining all these good points "I'ry Hibbard's First"

The Entirely New Prince George Suits

HE correct style for the younger set—the feature is the helted coat with natch nockets. Along with is the belted coat with patch pockets. Along with these we show the Norfolk suits again very popular. Some are self-trimmed, others have contrasting facings, belts, collars, etc. These come in navy blue, tan, gray and Shepherd checks. Priced $12.95 to $30.

Coats Are to Be Much Worn This Summer

SO we are showing coats suitable for now, yet will be in first-class style later. A particularly large showing of tans in plain or novelties. Also the serviceable navy blues trimmed with a contrasting color. We have received new ones nearly every day. * *

A Special Dress Value Characteristic of Our Line

Our Supremacy in Millinery Is Seldom Disputed

WE carry the largest lines and maintain the largest corps of millinery designers and trimmers in Colorado Springs.

-We ask you to consider these things in buying your hat. The logical result is better styles and better value.

WE know that our styles as interpreted by our designers are right. Every fashion authority approves them.

"A Hat to Order for You" is the most satisfactory and our great showing of trimmed models will give you the ideas. We trim them right in our own store, following your desires and utilizing where you want your own materials. We ask and urge you to order

*I'HE trimmed assortment as we stated is comprehen-I sive indeed. Not the usual sort of severely tailored manufactured styles but clever and original ideas artistically executed. * * * * * *

INVITE HVERY WOMAN

Every woman is invited to consult our Staff of Physicians, Surgeons and Specialists, at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N.Y., by letter at my expense R.V. Pierce, M.D. There is every reason why women should not trust their delicate constitutions in the hands of unskilled persons. It requires a thorough medical education to appreciate and understand the female organism. There is every reason why she should write a specialist. As a powerful, invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For over-worked "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble ...omen generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic. As a soothing and strengthening nervine "Favorite Pre-scription" is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasma, fainting spells, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic discree of the distinctly feminine organs. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

was on. If you have never heard the strains of a Chinese band you are to be envied. The best feature of their music is that the gong is esnally so loud the the gong and there is nothing that it can be compared to expect a chorus of back fence cats in love. A New Yorker who arranged for a Chinatown banquet for some friends once engaged a ten-piece Chinese orchestra to furnish the proper atmosphere. He had wever heard a Chinese orchestra. He paid the musicians $60 to

But the Hip Sing diners liked the music and their American guests tried to overlook it. The feasters sat on backless chairs drawn up to long rows of tables with bare marble tops. To themselves over near the orchestrawere a dezen silk wrapped Chizese women. The courses were not served on individual plates, but in large bowls, which were attacked by every pair of chopsticks within reach. The only part of the feast that wasn't eaten with chopsticks was the soup, for which small china

Ordinarily when a Chinaman is dizing out he takes slong his own bottle of rice wine and throws it under the table when it goes dry. But this being no ordinary dinner the rice wine was served with the courses, and the generosity of its flow was attested the next morning in many a beadache under the roots of the Hip Sing

It is beyond the power even of Chinamen to eat for welve hours running. To recuperate the feating powers an intermission was cut into the courses that lasted from 7.30 until 9. During this most of the diners munched pumpkin seeds and plied the rice wine bottles continuously. When Mock, the head waiter, and his assistants began bringing in the bowle on the second half they were greeted as though the intermission had been a day's fast.

From now on French taste, too long poglected, will dominate all fashions, and the future will show how great a benefit he and the others will confer upon the world generally by adhering to their own opinions. instead of being led astray by false gods.

These, in substance, are the words of M. Baloz, the representative of the great house of Beer, and he is, to more or less extent, voicing the opinions of the others. Redfern, who is referred to here by the press as the "Napoleon of countriers" is almost plaintive over the "aberration" in dress, and thanks heaven that it is not a passing mode but one that is past,

From these and other interviews certain facts may be gathered, the principal one being that so far there is no one fashion that promises to take precedent of the others and that now is remains with the women of the fashionable world, the exquisitely diseased and other members of the Parisian stage, whose word is genetally law, to decide what the remaining millions of women had best wear. From their decision there is no

In walking skirts there are several new models, each one showing draperies differently arranged,

One model showed an underskipt a triffe wider than those of the winter and untrimmed. A draped skirt hung over this, but the drapery was placed far down, within three or four inches of the ground, and although this overskirt was full, it really held the wearer in as closely as did any narrow skirt that has been

It is impossible to tell how these overskirts are out for all that can be seen is that they show a few gathers about the waist, especially on the right side. and that this fullness is drawn around both front and back and seemingly tied on the left side. Of course the material must be out away, for there is no undue size about the knot that eatches the garment, but byestend it is soft, fint, and apparently little more than one single fold. At first view these skirts are not attractive, nor do they seem graceful, but, like everything else, when one is accustomed to them they lose this effect and take on a certain distinction.

Another model is quite preffy, particularly when made of some of the new soft materials like eponge, or summer ratine. The back or this sairt shows a little fullness arranged in a cluster of gathers just below the waist. The sides are plain, but instead of sheing panel shaped the panels are cut on the blaz, coming almost together at the top and sloping out toward their lawer edges, but fitting perfectly smoothterial, which appears from under these sides, is apparently cut longer than need be, and this extralength is draped up on either life, so that it hangs in a series of soft folds from top to hottom.

With both these skirts real directoire coats were worn, gemi-tong, with wide cuffed sleeves finished with frills of tulle that fell over the rists and revers that reached back on to the shouldars. The coatwern with the skirt baving the front drapery had a anna'l waistcoat, also draped, which carried out this and des and was smart looking.
